ABSTRACT

This publication presents data in five tables from a survey of the 734 State University of New York (SUNY) instructional locations which offer credit courses away from main campuses. For the second year, the 1993-94 survey collected annual data rather than fall data as it had in the past. All tables in this publication pertain to 1993-94 data. Table 1 presents summary information on the 734 instructional locations away from the main campuses. Table 2 presents detailed information by institution on each of the reported instructional locations. Table 3 displays the 57 instructional locations away from the main campus which meet the state requirements for branch campuses, interinstitutional programs or exceptions by offering complete academic programs leading to a certificate or degree. Table 4 lists the 75 locations which meet the state requirements for extension centers or interinstitutional centers, i.e., not offering a complete academic program but offering more than 15 credit courses or having more than 350 course registrations. Table 5 shows the 602 locations which currently meet the state requirements for extension sites or interinstitutional sites, i.e., not offering a complete academic program and offering 15 or fewer courses for credit and having 350 or fewer course registrations. Appendixes contain a map of state university institutions, dates institutions were established, and a publications list. (JB)

INTRODUCTION

This is the ninth report prepared by the Office of Institutional Research providing comprehensive information about off-campus instructional locations of the State University of New York. This publication, like the most previous one, summarizes annual data rather than only fall data from the Instructional Locations Away from the Main Campus Survey, Summer 1993 through Spring 1994. (Survey 94-58).

This Survey was designed to collect information in support of the 1980 NYSED regulations regarding off-campus instruction [Subdivisions (r), (s), and (t) of Section 50.1 and Part 54 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education]. According to CEO Memorandum 80-16, Implementation of New Regulations on Off-Campus Instruction,"The purpose of these regulations is to assure that off-campus instruction meets the quality standards required of all degree-credit instruction in New York and that it is fully integrated into our system of comprehensive, statewide planning for postsecondary education. The effective integration of off-campus instruction into postsecondary planning is necessary so that high quality and broad access will continue to be associated in New York with the effective use of resources and with a rich diversity of institutions and programs."

The NYSED off-campus regulations classify all instruction offered for credit at a location other than the institution's principal center into four categories: branch campuses, extension centers, extension sites and exceptions. Generally, branch campuses and extension centers need prior approval to operate. A branch campus needs Regents approval, i.e., master plan amendment, charter amendment, Regents permission, as appropriate [Commissioner's Regulations 54.1 (a) and (b)]. An extension center needs the Commissioner's approval to begin to operate [Commissioner's Regulations 54.1 (c) and (d)]. Extension sites or exceptions to the Commissioner's Regulations require no separate approval. For NYSED definitions ofthese terms see the Definitions section of this publication, page ix.

There are five tables contained in this report. All tables pertain to 1993-94 data. Table 1 presents summary information on the 734 instructional locations away from the main that were reported. Table 2 presents detail information by institution on each of the reported instructional locations.

Table 3 displays the 57 (7.8%) instructional locations away from the main campus which meet the NYSED requirements for branch campuses, interinstitutional programs or exceptions by offering complete academic programs leading to a certificate or degree.

Table 4 presents the 75 (10.2%) locations which meet the NYSED requirements for extension centers or interinstitutional centers, i.e., not offering a complete academic program but offering more than 15 credit courses or having more than 350 course registrations.

Table 5 shows the 602 (82%) locations which currently meet the NYSED requirements for extension sites or interinstitutional sites, i.e., not offering a complete academic program and offering 15 or less courses for credit and having 350 or less course registrations.

The publication of this report could not have been accomplished without the full cooperation of the individual institutional respondents. We appreciate their cooperation and efforts that went into providing these data. We would also like to thank and compliment the efforts of Ms. Cynthia Brinsmaid for entering and editing the data and to Ms. Brinsmaid for preparing this report for publication and distribution.

SUMMARY OF DATA

This publication summarizes the responses of the State University of New York institutions to the 1994 survey of Instructional Locations Away from the Main Campus (94-58) which collected annual rather than fall data for the second time and is administered by the Central Office of Institutional Research.

The purpose of this survey is to collect select information from all instructional locations away from the main campus which offer credit courses. These locations have been established for several reasons including (a) the convenience of the students by facilitating their access to the instructional services of the college, (b) the nature of the academic program pursued, (c) due to an agreement with the Sponsoring County of a Community College or (d) some other impelling reason which is specified.

Examination of the data contained in this report, chiefly in Tables 1 and 2, indicate that in 1993-94 there were 734 instructional locations away from the main campus operated by institutions of the State University of New York. Table 1 contains summary data for all reported locations while Table 2 presents detailed information for each reported off-campus location. Tables 3, 4, and 5 identify these locations according to State of New York classifications for instructional locations away from the main campus (Section 50.1 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education). Of the number of locations identified, 261 (or 35.6%) were reported by State-operated/funded institutions while 473 (or 64.4%) were reported by the Community Colleges. There were 162,419 registrations in 6,622 courses during the 1993-94 year. This registration statistic is not an unduplicated headcount, instead it is a total of all the registrations in all courses at these locations.

The data reveal that 469 (or 64%) of these locations are at least four years old. One hundred and fifty-eight locations (22%) are over ten years old while 47 (6.4%) locations are over 20 years old. These mature locations comprise the bulk of our instructional activities away from the main campus sites. Seventy-five percent of all registrations (122,304) and almost eighty percent (5,278) of all courses are reported at these mature locations.

Of the 5,940 faculty members teaching at all locations, 4,152 (or 70%) are employed at the main campus. There are 1,445 faculty members (24%) employed full-time at the main campus, while 2,707 (46%) faculty members are employed on a part-time basis at the main campus. Another 1,788 (30%) of the faculty are not employed at main campus locations. Among the latter, for example, are nationally known labor studies leaders, local business people and other highly skilled experts.

Although there are examples of instructional locations which are quite distant from the main campus, the great majority (85%) of the locations reported (626) are within a commuting distance of 50 miles from the main campus. Four percent of the locations are very distant, i.e., over 100 miles, from the main campus. A majority of these cases are examples of the particular location being necessitated by the nature of the academic program being offered.

An examination of the data regarding reasons for establishing an instructional location away from the main campus reveals that nearly ninety-three percent of the locations were established for the convenience of students and/or programmatically necessitated due to the nature of the academic program being offered. A little more than seven percent of the locations were established for other reasons. Some of the reasons cited among this last category include; sites requested by the United States Air Force, historical gifts of land to be used for a specific purpose, and sites requested by correctional facilities for inmate education programs.

Of particular interest is the extent to which these off-campus locations are really a part of the fabric of the community college system of the State. A majority of the locations, 473 (64%) were reported by community colleges. Of the 162,339 registrations reported, 129,163 (80%) were reported by community college locations. Of the 6,622 courses offered, 4,719 (71%) are offered by community colleges. In addition, 97% of the 473 locations reported by community colleges are located within 50 miles of the main SUNY institution. The data seem to indicate that these colleges are fulfilling the mission of community institutions. The data strongly support the case that these institutions are serving the citizens of the sponsoring location whose tax money supports the operation of the college.

The academic programs whose requirements can be met in part or whole by the courses offered at these instructional locations vary from location to location. Of the off-campus locations reported in this study, 360 (49%) offer courses for majors in specific academic programs. The other 374 locations (51%) offer courses that are not specifically designed for majors and are classified as "general education" courses.

Reporting institutions indicate that 525 of the off-campus locations (71.5%) serve special clientele groups such as: government or public service personnel, educators, special interest groups, military personnel, prisoners or others as indicated. Some of these locations also serve the general public and these locations are noted. The remaining 209 locations (28.5%) specifically serve the general public. General public in this study has been designated as those students not defined by the special clientele groups, a listing of which may be found in the Table 2 footnotes on page 83.

This is the second year that the survey collected annual data as compared to past years when data was collected for the fall semester only. Therefore, this data is only comparable with the data contained in the last publication of Instructional Locations Away From the Main Campus.

SUMMARY OF DATA (Continued)

It is evident from these numbers that the people of the State of New York are well served by these off-campus locations. Instructional locations away from the main campus are serving the needs of increasing numbers of students as well as helping to fulfill the missions of the institutions of the State University of New York.

DEFINITION OF OFF-CAMPUS TERMS

Academic programs whose requirements can be met in part or whole by these courses - Listing of approved academic programs and awards whose requirements can be met in part or in whole by courses taught at a specific location. The source of approved academic programs and awards is the "State University of New York Official Academic Program Inventory."

Branch Campus or Interinstitutional Program - A category of off-campus instruction defined as a unit of an institution located at a place other than the institution's principal center or another degree-granting institution, at which the institution offers one or more curricula leading to a certificate or degree. When a certificate or degree program is conducted on the campus of another degree-granting institution, the program is called an interinstitutional program (from the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education, pursuant to Section 207 of the Education Law, Section 50.1).

Characteristics of Faculty - Total number of faculty teaching at this location during 1993-94 and information on whether these faculty are: (a) employed at the main campus full-time; (b) employed at the main campus part-time; or (c) not employed at the main campus. For annual totals, the same person is counted as one faculty member regardless of the number of courses or semesters taught.

Clientele served - A listing by code (see footnote specifics) of special clientele or general public clientele.

Complete program or academic program whose total requirements can be met at this center - As indicated by each institution - a listing of approved academic programs and awards whose total requirements can be met by courses offered at this location over a period of time.

Continuity of operation - Indication of whether operation of this center has been continuous or intermittent.

Credit course instruction - Information on total number of unique courses taught in 1993-94 and level, i. e., undergraduate, graduate or first-professional. In any academic year, multiple sections of the same course are counted only once.

Exceptions - A category of off-campus instruction that exempts an institution from the branch campus and extension center provisions. An off-campus location will qualify for exemption for any of the following reasons: (a) outside of NYS or on Federal territory; (b) clinical or practice sites; (c) courses offered to high school students in high schools; (d) inside correctional facilities; (e) Native American reservations; (f) other exemptions granted by the Commissioner (from the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education, pursuant to Section 207 of the Education Law, Section 54.2).

Extension Center or Interinstitutional Center - A category of off-campus instruction defined as a unit of an institution located at a place other than the institution's principal center or another degree-granting institution, at which the institution does not offer any curricula leading to a certificate or degree, but at which the institution either conducts more than fifteen courses for credit or has more than three hundred fifty course registrations for credit in any academic year. When another degree-granting institution is used as the off-campus location, the location is referred to as an interinstitutional center (from the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education, pursuant to Section 207 of the Education Law, Section 50.1).

Extension Site or Interinstitutional Site - A category of off-campus location defined as a unit of an institution located at a place other than the institution's principal center or another degree-granting institution, at which the institution does not offer any curricula leading to a certificate or degree, and at which the institution conducts no more than fifteen courses for credit and has no more than three hundred fifty course registrations for credit in any academic year. When off-campus instruction is conducted at another degree-granting institution, the location is referred to as an interinstitutional site. (Excerpt from the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education, pursuant to Section 207 of the Education Law, Section 50.1).

Instructional locations away from the main campus - Refers to a site other than the principal instructional center of an institution at which courses are offered. Instructional activities which take the student away from the principal location of the institution for field experience such as student teaching, field trips, practicums, etc. are not included.

Miles from main campus - Total number of miles away from main campus is indicated for each instructional location.

Number of years - The number of years this particular instructional location has been in operation.

Reason for location - Reasons for establishing this location include:
(a) for the convenience of students; (b) because of the nature of the academic program pursued; or (c) due to an agreement with the sponsoring county of a community college.

Registrations in credit courses - This is the total number of all credit course registrations for the 1993-94 year, including those with multiple sections. This may be a duplicated count.
